Old Quarter — Vietnam National Museum of History — ASEAN Children's Day Vietnam

The Thai and ASEAN Studies Department at the Faculty of International Studies, Prince of Songkla University, Phuket, asked me to escort a small group of Thai students to Hanoi, Vietnam, to begin a summer study abroad at the National University.

Saturday, June 3, was a free day to explore the city, and began with a taxi ride to the Old Quarter, the rustic heart of Hanoi. After weathering the hot hours of the day at the Vietnam National Museum of History, I spent the late afternoon near Hoam Kien Lake, where I was fortunate to photograph the televised ASEAN Children's Day Vietnam program.
